Dr. Dawj's Feast 411 Highlights Juana Woodridge and C.Lynn Williams

Chicago, IL - Sangsters Enterprises (Dawgelene "Dr. Dawj" Sangster, the brand) is proud to announce the success of May's FEAST 411, a monthly series created by Dawgelene "Dr Dawj" Sangster, Philanthropist, Educator, Author & Motivational Evangelist, as a way to connect local authors and educators in Chicago, with a platform to promote their "tasty" crafts, network with each other, and positively impact the community through promoting literacy and continuous learning for women and girls.

During the month of May two exceptional authors were featured: Juana Wooldridge, author of "I Got Juana Back: A Journey of Inspiration" and C. Lynn Williams, author of "Trying To Stay Sane While Raising Your Teen and "The Pampered Prince" were highlighted during the event where they discussed their respective books at the Think Royally Studios.

Juana Wooldridge is a published author who holds the power to become a character and makes the audience believe. As a writer, Juana Wooldrige brings an architecture of words that delight the spirit. Her need to express and her need to share bring a beauty to others as she weaves the tapestry of her thoughts into words that linger in hearts and minds. C. Lynn Williams is an author, educator, wife and mother of four adult children. She is an active member of her church and sorority. Interacting with parents of students and her children's friends prompted her to begin writing a series of books that will guide parents to more "comfortably" parent the young people in their life.
